PDI World Group Promotes Two, Hires New VP

Minneapolis, MN, May 10, 2007 – Local architecture firm PDI World Group has promoted Dave Thorsen from Vice-President to Senior Vice-President, and has named Michael Song, Project Manger, an Associate of the firm. In addition, Kevin Lee, another local architect, has joined the firm as Vice-President.

Thorsen, a registered Minnesota architect for nearly 25 years, joined PDI last June, shortly after its founding, to oversee the firm's operations. In addition to his management credentials, he has significant design experience in the aviation and education fields. He previously was with TSP Architects and Engineers, and also Perkins & Will.

Song also joined PDI shortly after its founding, coming from Durrant where he had worked with Steve Huh, founder of PDI World Group, for the five years after coming to the U.S. from South Korea. He has been a licensed architect in Korea since 1995.

Kevin Lee was also previously a senior staff member at Durrant. He comes to PDI with almost 25 years of experience as an architect, planner/designer, and project manager. He has extensive international experience in mixed-use and tall building projects.
